Audience Advice

Imagine that you are an advice columnist, and that one of the characters from Out Here has written to you for advice. Pick any character, and imagine that they've asked for advice before, at a specific point during, or immediately following the show.

Write your response to this character, making sure to include a greeting, a brief summary of their issue, and your advice. Be sure to explain why your advice will help them navigate their situation or make the next right step. Don't forget to sign your letter!
